It's finally the fall season even though our weather hasn't figured that out yet. My suitcase stays packed as Buddy and I wander from place to place while our home is having some renovation done. I guess we will continue to be gypsies through the month of October.

This month we have our "Trash and Treasure". Every single thing in my sewing room had to be packed and removed from that room, so I have had a stash for charity and a stash for our guild program.

Blessings,
Linda

CHARITY

I missed seeing everyone in September. I heard the meeting was good and the charity response was fantastic.

I want to thank Lolletta for doing the charity table for me. Thanks to all who took kits and quilts to quilt.

I am really in need of quilters, so if anyone is available come see us in the back. The kids really enjoy getting the quilts everyone makes.

I won't be having charity again in October. I may not have it until after the new year. With November and December being holiday months, I think it would be best to wait until January when the holidays are over.

See you at the meeting

Joanne Krepps
Charity Chair

It's your turn October Birthdays to bring a treat. Cookie, Cakes, snacks etc. —just no TRICKS!

PROGRAMS

OCTOBER

The September Program with Michelle Watts was inspirational and demonstrated the beauty in all styles of quilts. The workshop was fun. Michelle instructed us on the many options of using the 9-degree ruler in quilt construction.

Our October 12th Meeting will be “Trash to Treasure” formally Chinese Auction. This is always fun and who knows what will be available for a chance drawing. Bring any items that you thought you loved but now have determined that the love has vanished. Remember, your Trash can be someone’s Treasure.

The November 16th Meeting Guest is Brenda Jeschke. Her program will be Tips & Techniques “What Books Don’t Tell You”. Brenda has been an instructor and judged quilt shows throughout Texas.

The December 14th Meeting is our Christmas Party. It is a Potluck Supper with the Board providing the program.

Looking forward to seeing everyone at the October Meeting.

Thank you
